
DOMENICO CORTESE - COUNCILOR

BORN IN TURIN IN 1947

Graduated in 1974 at the University of Turin, he attended Master in Corporate Organization, People Management, Development Management and Strategic Planning and Analysis.

From 1976 to 1980 he was Managing Organization and Development Manager of a food company, with responsibility for the overall management of Corporate Management and the management and design of macro structures, roles and responsibilities for the various business areas.

From 1981 to 1985 he served as Managing Director of a tanning industry company, with the overall management responsibility of the company.

From 1985 to 1993 he started to work as a senior consultant, senior partner and CEO in the Poliedros Group, with responsibility for organizational consulting and management training and business management projects.

Since 1993 he has been a founding partner, Managing Director and President of Cortese Consulting. He is a client and project leader for organizational development, education, management consultancy; he coordinates working groups composed of consultants involved in organizational consulting and management training projects.

Since April 2017 he has been a councilor of SOGES S.p.A.